Hotly Contested San. Board Election Tuesday

Liquor Row Is Settled

As a result of parley between City Attorney Tom Perry and A. C. Bigham, Thursday morning, the city will not press its protest of Bigham's application for a transfer of liquor license, when the public hearing is held before State Board of Equalization officials Monday afternoon in the city hall.

Reason for the city's capitulation is Bigham's assurance that he will abandon his plan of establishing his bottle goods store on Dolores street, opposite the Carmel Art Gallery, a location that aroused the ire of the entire community.

Perry, acting for the city council, explained to Bigham the attitude of the community, and the latter informed Perry that he would abandon the plan for occupying the Dolores street site, and establish his store in the newly created zone for such purposes, adding that he would see to it that in appearance his shop would be a credit to the community.

School Board Notifies Supervisors Of Responsibility For Child Safety

Carmel Unified School District trustees, baffled at every turn in their attempts to obtain a paid adult crossing guard at the Highway No. 1 entrance to the high school, Tuesday night made public a warning to the County Board of Supervisors.

"You are being notified that unless an adult traffic guard is provided for this crossing, that our Board of Trustees intends to remind the public that you are the only body that can provide such a guard, and that the burden of blame will be yours should an accident occur here without a guard," wrote Superintendent Stuart Mitchell. "The safety of our children certainly should come high on your list of priorities."

Controversy has been accompanied by a snowstorm of correspondence since October, 1949, when trustees abandoned the practice of hiring a paid guard at the intersection because of an attorney general's opinion that such use of school money was illegal.

Board then asked county supervisors to arrange with the California Highway Patrol to employ a guard to be paid from the county's share of gas tax monies. Supervisors replied that it was against their policy because "the others would be wanting one, too."

Since that time, Mitchell reported, he has had extensive correspondence with the Division of School Planning of the Department of Education and with the Division of Highways. One recommended traffic signals, the other a guard. In an attempt to reach an agreement, decisions were reversed, and false starts made in several directions before the two departments agreed that a paid guard was the best solution.

In response to the school district's requests, based on these recommendations, the Board of Supervisors replied in November, 1949:

All Day And Well Into The Night, P.T.A. Provides Games, Gaiety And Entertainment At Mammoth Carnival

In addition to the booths, the cookie contest, the food sales and all the other features set for the daytime activities on Saturday at the P. T. A. Carnival at Sunset School, the entertainment chairmen, Mrs. Ridgley Parker, Mrs. Carol McKenney and Mrs. Roderick Wilson, have gathered local talented persons of all ages by the bushel and have combined them into a very entertaining evening show for the Carnival.

Jimmy Griffin, singer and jester, is getting his chorus members' voices in tune for their arrangements of songs from South Pacific, as well as old favorites, for the hour-long varieties, from 7:30-8:30 p.m. Many of the chorus members will be recognized, as they are all localites. They are Joan Daniels, who will sing several solos, and her sister Carlene, Didi Douglas, Carol Smith, Benita Updike, Connie Campbell, Carol Byers, Gay Masten, Carol Templeman, Arcl Morrisseau, and her sister Jean.

The list of male voices includes Scott Hendricks, Arthur Page, Art Harber, Legare McNeill, Lee Laugher, Carol Briggs, Pablo Pollick, Victor Harber, Jack Swanson and many more.

An added attraction will be Pat Sturdy, famous for her descriptions on the stage, who will take over with an original skit.

Newcomers to the Sunset stage will surprise the audience in dancing routines, and everything to you-name-it.

Admission prices for the show won't amount to as much as you pay for a pair of shoe laces.

Going back to the sun-up activities, here's the program:

10:00 Gather for parade at Sunset.

10:00 Children's parade.

11:00 Booths open—Sunset field.

12:00 Judging of Baking Contest.

1:00 Movies every half hour.

1:30 Freak Show.

2:00 Pony Rides.

3:00 Auction.

4:00 Freak Show.

7:30 Evening program in auditorium.

All kinds of cartoons will delight many a kid. The man who is seen on boys' shirts, toys and wallpaper, Hopalong Cassidy, will be run, as well as Woody Woodpecker, Mighty Mouse, and many others, all for a dime.

There'll be everything a carnival should have in the way of handicrafts, needlework, garden displays, games and booths.

Carmel business men have been most cooperative, by showing P.T.A. displays in their showcases, by sponsoring newspaper advertising and by performing errands on a large scale.

This is the first such carnival since the last war, and the proceeds will be turned into the P.T.A. treasury, through which the P.T.A. buys glasses for children, pays for medical attention, and provides for unforeseen needs for which funds are not otherwise available.

Golden Bough Play Opens Tonight At Sunset Auditorium

Tonight the Golden Bough Players will open in Sunset Auditorium with their final play of the summer season, Shadow and Substance, by Paul Vincent Carroll. The play will be repeated Sunday night, the P.T.A. Carnival occupying the auditorium tomorrow.

Shadow and Substance is a beautiful, wise and tender play of modern Ireland, a deftly contrived mixture of humor, erudition and pathos. In New York the play won for its school teacher author the coveted Award of the New York Drama Critics' Circle, as well as large financial earnings over a long playing season.

The current production, directed by Gabrielle Kuster, includes in its cast Said Riza, Julie McCarthy, Edward Kuster, Gloria Rollin, Arthur Balasz, William Woolsey, Thomas Morley, John Evans, Judy Campbell, John Walsh and Marjorie Glennon.

Pine Cone Recommends Norberg And Kronholm

BY WILMA COOK

It's an old political dodge but it still works, when politicians are unscrupulous enough to employ it.

It goes like this:

The "board" sets an outrageous estimate on the cost for a public work project. The citizens are correspondingly aroused. They hold indignation meetings, they get up petitions, their blood pressure

Bing To Attend Youth Center Opening Friday

Bing Crosby will appear at Carmel Youth Center's opening teenage dance Friday night, September 22, climaxing a week of dinners and luncheons for local civic groups at the newly-completed building at Torres and Fourth streets, center director Fred Godwin announced yesterday.

In a series of affairs with proceeds donated to the youth program, next week's schedule will be:

Tuesday night: Carmel Lions and their ladies meet for dinner at 7. A near-capacity crowd is expected in the dining room, which accommodates 100. Members are urged to be on time so that the group may adjourn in time to attend the AWVS Straw Hat Review at Sunset Auditorium, from which a substantial donation to the Youth Center has been promised.

Wednesday: Rotary Club and the local real estate board and guests will hold a joint luncheon at the Center. From 75 to 100 are expected to be on hand at 12:15.

Thursday: A 12:15 luncheon will introduce the new building to members of the Kiwanis Club and guests, who will number about 75.

Friday: One hundred and fifty Carmel Woman's Club members will meet at 12:15 for luncheon.

Friday night: Center opens officially with a teen-age dance in the auditorium, to music by Bill Pierce and his 12-piece Del Monte orchestra. Music has been donated by Local 616, Musician's Union, and there will be no admission charge.

City Wins First Round In Baxter Case

Judge Anthony Brazil of the Monterey County Superior Court in Salinas yesterday ordered a temporary injunction against James O. Baxter, Guadalupe and Ocean avenue, restraining him from operating five houses on five adjacent 25-foot lots as transient dwellings in violation of Carmel zoning ordinances.

Suit was brought August 28 by City Attorney Thomas Perry, who said Baxter had been renting the dwellings to transient guests, defined by city rulings as those remaining less than a week, "for some time" since his purchase of the property in April, 1947.

Through his attorney, J. B. Padway of San Jose, Baxter contended yesterday that the zoning ordinance was "invalid, unreasonable, and unconstitutional." Judge Brazil's ruling upheld the city. Date for next hearing has not been set.

soars. Just when they are prepared to tear the "board" apart, the "board" comes up with a "low bid" for about half the estimated cost, which after the estimated cost seems so cheap that the property owners are completely deflated. They're dazed. They're happy. They have to pay only half what the "board" said they'd have to pay. They're so relieved that they love everybody including the "board."

It doesn't occur to the citizens, so dramatically freed from their burden of worry, that the so called "low bid" may not be low actually. It may only seem low when measured to the astronomical estimate of the "board." Nothing much occurs to them except, thank heaven, they don't have to pay the ruinous assessments the "board" first said they would. So all is peace and contentment.

To the politically minded, such fiddling with the emotions of the citizens may be regarded as smart stage management. And so it is, but we question that it is an ethical device for honest democratic government.

Our own Sanitary Board has employed it not once, but twice within the past year, estimating the cost of sewerage Carmel Point at double the accepted bid, and the cost of sewerage the Hatton Fields and Mesa at a third higher than the low bid.

Two of the Sanitary board members responsible for this maneuvering are running for re-election, Allen Knight and Lee Kellogg. It is not an accident that for the first time in 10 years they find themselves opposed. Two good men are running against them, Gunnar Norberg and Arthur Kronholm. Their record in the community is excellent. They are supported by some of the district's finest citizens. Gunnar Norberg has been a worker on whatever civic committee he has served; and a campaigner for many worthwhile projects. In none of his activities has he found it necessary to resort to any kind of trickery to put his project through. Kronholm is a man of wide financial experience. The district is embarked on improvements that will involve hundreds of thousands of dollars. Kronholm believes he can employ his know-how to save a dollar here and there for the property owners.

The Pine Cone urges everybody in the district to turn out to vote Tuesday; and we recommend that you cast your votes for Gunnar Norberg and Arthur Kronholm.

NINE-GAME SCHEDULES FOR PADRE LIGHTWEIGHT

If you learn football by playing it, the Carmel preps should have some smart performances for the '51 season. This year's lightweight squad will take on a nine-game which should serve to put on a lot of gridiron polish. After eight days of conditioning, fundamentals, and andering through the T formation maze, the football neophytes have advanced to the stage where they are ready for live contact. Gifted with three accurate passing quarterbacks, Mike Ricketts, Ron Wolverton, and Howard Roloff, the Padre lights will feature a passing game. Ends Don Morehead, Al Knight, Ray March, and Denny Johnson are better than average receivers for the quarterback tosses.

Coach Rolfe Leavett's squad will see their initial game action on Friday, September 22, when the Holy Cross team comes to Carmel.

Dr. Curtis B. Gorham of Carmel, at the wheel of his Mercury class Conchita, nosed out seven contestants Sunday to take first place in the Stillwater Yacht Club's final race of the season. Dr. Gorham's victory ties him for fourth in season standing.

Gorham will be presented with the Race Committee Trophy at the club's next meeting. Tie will be decided at that time.

With line-up from Sunday's race tabulated, season standings are:

First, Ralph Buchan, The Feather (Mercury); second, M. C. Jenkins, First Today (Mercury); third, William T. Mahar, Piper (Clipper); fourth, I. W. Stephenson, Bonita III (Mercury); and Dr. Gorham; sixth, Miss Agnes Randel, Scherzo (Mercury); seventh, Miss Sherrie Henderson, The Ho Hum (Mercury); and eighth, Thomas M. Bunn, Jr., The Bodkin (Mercury).

PADRE GRIDDERS STAGE RED AND GREY GAME TODAY

This afternoon at 3:30 Carmel High School football candidates will get their first taste of game contact when the annual Red and Grey tussle takes place. Today's game will give the Padre coaching staff an opportunity to view the new varsity prospects and will shake down the 1950 offensive patterns. Henry Overin, versatile right halfback, will captain the Greys and will direct the offense. Bobby Updike, one of the hardest running halfbacks in the CCAL, will guide the destiny of the Reds. The Carmel coaches will make a careful scrutiny of the jobs turned in by new performers Craig Moore, Said Meheen, Al Green, Jim Moran, Conrad Ege, Chris Barnes and Sam Robison. These boys will be counted on to bolster the varsity power during the '50 season, and how they go will presage how the Padres go in '50.

The public is invited to attend today's game which will be run off on a regular game basis—full dress and league officials. Admission is free.

CRICKETERS LOSE TO MARIN

George Calvert, outstanding player on the Del Monte Cricket Club, was out of town last week when the Club played against, and lost to Marin City, here in Carmel. The out-of-towners made a total of 121 runs, and the localites scored a not-winning, but an honorable count of 59 runs. High on the list of scorers were Allen Faulkes, who made 16 runs, and Alec Merivale who drew 12.

The final contest of the season will be played here next week with the Olympic Club of San Francisco.

Outdoor Education Committee Formed, Blee Is Director

A committee to plan a new outdoor education program for the Carmel School System was formed and met Monday night, September 11, at the home of Mrs. F. L. Wallace. The committee consists of Mr. Stuart Mitchell, Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Arthur Hull, Principal of Sunset School, and Mr. James Blee, sixth grade teacher, who will direct the program.

Also on the committee are Mrs. Glenn Minshall, P.T.A. recreation chairman, Mrs. Walter Nielsen, sixth grade room mother, Mrs. Edgar Bissantz, sixth grade room mother, and Mrs. F. L. Wallace, arrangements chairman. Serving in an advisory capacity are Mr. the Reverend Alfred B. Seccombe, Mrs. Rod Wilson, Mrs. Mark Raggett, Doctor William Coughlin, Gene Ricketts and Mrs. M. C. Jenkins.

Sixth grade school children will be given the opportunity, through this project, to go to the Big Sur State Park next May, to live and study outdoors, for one school week.

Mr. Blee, who will be camp director, has been working for the program for a considerable time. Such programs are in full-swing in several states, including Michigan and Pennsylvania. In California, the San Diego county and city school camp, Cuyamaca, has provided camping for over 22,000 children in 25 years, and is operated the entire school year.

The new director, Mr. Blee, is eminently qualified to direct the program, as he has had much experience as a ranger-naturalist in Big Sur Park, and in Sequoia National Park with the forest service. Before that time, he was counselor in private YMCA camps. This year he observed and studied at Camp Cuyamaca, and in July he attended the outdoor education workshop, conducted by the San Diego State College at Palomar, on a scholarship from the W. A. Kellogg foundation.

Carmel In Pajamas Sees Historic Building Burn

Fire of undetermined origin Sunday night gutted La Maisonette, restaurant at Sixth and Lincoln Streets known for many years as Steve's Chop House. Building and equipment were a total loss in the blaze that was prevented from spreading to neighboring stores and homes by quick action on the part of citizens and Fire Department crews.

Fire was reported shortly after 10:00 o'clock almost simultaneously by at least a dozen citizens who saw the windows of the restaurant lit up by the flames. Participants at a dance given by the Filipino Wives' Club across the street at the Girl Scout house were among the first on the scene, and were credited with probably saving the residence of Harriet Duncan, immediately north of the building, by spraying the house with garden hoses until firemen arrived.

At the same time bystander Donald Hayes was giving the Patterson Building, new $75,000 structure east of the restaurant, a similar treatment, and was for a time in some danger as flames filled the narrow alleyway between the buildings. Miss Duncan's home, a wooden house, was untouched, while damage to the Patterson building was confined to a few broken windows.

Commendation of the Volunteer Fire Department was unanimous by the crowd in pajamas and hastily-donned overcoats who saw the blaze brought under control in little over half an hour.

Changes, Two New Classes In Adult School Program

Because of conflict with the apprenticeship program, the Machine Woodcarving class will be offered on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, instead of on Monday and Wednesday, at 7 p.m., in the Carmel High School shop, according to instructor Ian Belangee. There is still room for anyone interested to join the class.

Under the adult program, two new classes are being organized. A modern exercise dance class, under the direction of Mrs. Cole Weston, will meet Monday and Wednesday evenings beginning Monday, October 2. A sign up for another craft class is being taken. Mrs. Doris Ormsby, a member of the Carmel Art Association, is offering a course in block printing in various media. Curtains, dresses, and Christmas cards are suggested projects. If you are interested, phone 7-3020 evenings, Monday through Thursday.

She leaves her husband, Richard Lamb, and a daughter, Jeradine Lamb, both of Carmel; and a sister, Margaret Willson Swanson of China Lake, Calif.

HI CHATTER

By Edwina Brown

Life at Carmel HI has begun to settle down to the normal routine. Most of the students have adjusted their schedules to suit themselves and the eighth grade students are now able to find their way around without too much difficulty.

The traditional Welcome Dance, sponsored by the Student Body, was held Friday night, September 8, in the cafetorium. The affair was very well attended, particularly by the underclassmen, and everyone seemed to enjoy himself.

Each class was assigned a specific duty concerning the dance, with all the committees being organized by Sherrie Henderson, Commissioner of Social Affairs. The committees were: Clean-up (9th grade); Chairman, Howard Taggart, Dennis Johnson, Howard Roloff, Allen Knight, John Hicks, Susan Nutter, and Sydney Tice. Entertainment (10th grade); Chairman, Carlene Daniels, Arthur Collins, and Timmy Davis. Refreshments (11th grade); Chairman, Ann Spurr, Paula Roloff, Sibyl Kocher, Charity Rigsby, Sue Stoney, Babs Balzer, Janice Lyon, and Frand Lanou. Decorations (12th grade); Chairman, Sherrie Henderson, Pat Harn, Dianne Lewis, Mavis Jones, Sally Reichard, Linda Bain, Audrey Campbell, Buzzy May, and Bob Stebbins.

The Ski Club met at noon, Tuesday, September 12, to elect officers and discuss safety devices for skiers. Sherrie Henderson was elected president; Carol Timbers, vice-president; and Sue McCloud, traveling manager.

Linda Bain and Edwina Brown have been chosen co-editors of the 1951 El Padre yearbook. Each will be in charge of a different section, but will work together and will combine their efforts to put the book together and get it published. Linda is in charge of the art, photography, and layout sections, while Edwina will organize the advertising, business matters, literary material, and subscriptions. It is hoped that this arrangement will produce an even better yearbook.

A native of Berkeley, Short spent many vacations in Carmel while a student in Bay Area schools and at the University of California. He had many friends here.

During the recent war he saw action in the European theater, and was awarded the Bronze Star, the Silver Star, and the Commendation Ribbon. After duty with the occupation forces he was discharged with the rank of captain.

When hostilities began in Korea, Short was on Formosa. He immediately re-entered the Army and was returned to duty in Japan.

He leaves his mother, Mrs. James V. Short of 1386 Euclid Avenue, Berkeley; a brother, Maj. James V. Short, now stationed in Tokyo; and an aunt, Mrs. Raymond V. Wilson, 2400 Ridge Road, Berkeley.

Looking for a Money Saver?

Better Buy Buick!

YOU CAN SEE here how smart it is —don't have to be told that it's the most quickly identified car on the road today.

You probably know that the engine under that broad bonnet is a Fireball straight-eight valve-in-head engine and a lively stepper in any company.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT—This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

You can check the abundance of its room by the simple expedient of taking the family and trying out its spaciousness at the nearest Buick dealer's—and a very few minutes on the open road will satisfy you that all-coil springing, low-pressure tires and Buick's torque-tube drive really do produce a ride that is matchless for its soft comfort.

BUT RIGHT NOW, it may be that the money angle is the thing uppermost in your mind, and on that we'd like to make two points:

All our records go to show that this is the most economical Buick ever built. It is easy on gas, on oil, on tires, on upkeep.

And if you choose it with Dynaflo

Drive,* it immediately eliminates all chance of friction-clutch repair and replacement—not to mention greatly reducing rear-axle and transmission maintenance.

Best of all, your initial outlay is a highly favorable one—whatever Buick you buy. For these brawny straight-eights built rugged and solid for durable service—are priced at a level that makes them a standout buy in any price class.

Yes, better buy a Buick. Your dealer will be glad to demonstrate, glad to work out all the arithmetic of a deal. See him right away and get an order signed.

Executive Committee Backs Pastor In Stand Against Ornate Funerals

The executive committee of the Church of the Wayfarer, meeting on Monday evening, gave a unanimous vote of approval, supporting the stand taken by their minister, Dr. K. Fillmore Gray, from the pulpit of the church on Sunday. In this sermon he called for members and friends of the church to take steps toward new funeral practices and customs in keeping with their Christian convictions about life and death.

"It is the task of our church leadership," he said, "to set the tone of the community in this regard. Many persons do not deliberately choose a secularized or pagan funeral, but accept it simply because they have not been made aware of the Christian alternative." He outlined a suggested procedure which included an immediate and simple disposition of the body with less expense and no public display, and then a memorial service in the church when the experience of death could be lifted up into the framework of Christian faith.

At this memorial service in the church friends could, by their attendance, testify to their affection for the one who had died, and their friendship for those remaining. There would be no need for an excessive display of flowers but friends could contribute to some memorial project in which the deceased was interested.

"Some may think that we are boycotting morticians and florists," Dr. Gray stated, "but this is not the case. Funeral costs are based upon the elaborate and expensive equipment which some people have demanded that funeral directors maintain. We can say to them: 'We do not require or want all of that expensive equipment. We want your simple services in doing your part for Christians at this time. In the long run we feel that you can adjust the details of your business so that you can provide for your families just as adequately as any other businessman and public servant provides for his.'"

Congregations which overflowed the chapel of the Church of the Wayfarer in hallways and adjoining rooms were advised to face the problem of death in advance, to discuss it as families, making plans so that such important decisions do not have to be made under stress. "If all of the members of each family know all along that others do not believe in unduly expensive caskets," he continued, "and if they know the kind of service which is consistent with the Christian belief in the supremacy of the spirit; and how a memory may be suitably enshrined, then a great deal of the confusion can be eliminated and death may be met and faced with calmness and poise."

It is the hope of the executive committee of the Church League, the business organization of the church, that this movement, begun in Carmel, may reach out in influence to other churches and other communities across the nation.

ROPING AND FEAST

Lots of dust will fill the air this Sunday at the Holman Guest Ranch where an open steer-roping contest will take place. Gates will open at 1:00 p.m. to everyone interested in the sport.

For those wanting a barbecued steak and salad, a special barbecue will get under way at 12:00. A professional in the field of barbecues, Mr. Sonic Johnson, will be in charge of the food department.

DANCING CLASS REOPENS

Miss Dorothy Dean, who has been teaching dancing here for the past five years, announces the opening of her fall term, which begins next week.

Mr. Richard Nordt, who was an associate teacher with Miss Dean this summer, will teach the advanced group, while Miss Dean will train the younger classes.

Mr. Nordt, who toured with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo before entering the army, taught at the University of Arts faculty last summer in Hollywood, Chicago and New York.

It is the desire of the two instructors to develop a group of dancers for ballet concert work for immediate areas.

SIERRA SLIDES TO BE SHOWN

The Photography Appreciation Group is pleased to present Mr. Ray Mann of Pacific Grove, with his color slides to be shown on the screen of the auditorium of the Carmel Sunset School, on Monday night, September 18, at 8 p.m.

Half a billion dollars at work for you

This picture shows what Standard of California has spent, since the war, on facilities needed to bring you more and better petroleum products... and to compete with other oil companies in this extremely competitive business.

But... what else has this money accomplished?

It has helped every community in the West... created jobs in many industries and made those of our own people better. The money has spread to other businesses, large and small, and to every profession. Homes have been built, automobiles purchased, educations planned and started for many of the West's young people.

We point this out to show how big companies make money work for everyone. And, certainly, the public must share the credit... for the public alone can make a company big. Over the years, you have found Standard products good and have bought more and more of them. You've made us grow. A large share of our profits each year is turned back into the tools which mean still better products and more efficient service for you. And, perhaps even more important today, the tools which give much added strength to our nation.

Artist's Autobiography

BY ABEL G. WARSHAWSKY

THE NEW MONTPARNASSE

Prohibition in the United States had drawn a new American population to Paris. It almost seemed as if Greenwich Village "en masse" had emigrated to the Quarter. What had formerly been real Bohemianism now became a sham, a part of the Montparnasse side-show. The Dome Cafe was crowded to the limit, and the sidewalk terrace stretched almost to the curbstones of the now famous boulevard. Across the street the once modest Rotonde had blossomed forth into a rival of the Dome. Adjoining shops had been annexed, and the whole transformed into a mammoth cafe. The interior was of a magnificent heretofore unknown in the Quarter, the entire wall space being devoted to a permanent exhibition of the paintings and drawings of artist clients, while upstairs every evening a large dance orchestra played jazz to a jostling crowd of gyrating couples. The center of Paris night life had been transferred from Montmartre to Montparnasse. As a result, the Quarter was rapidly losing its former air of quiet and unpretentiousness. Cafes, American bars, and "dancings" were springing up all along the Boulevard du Montparnasse. A new Babylon had been launched in Paris.

An innovation in Parisian cafes was the new Coupole, for the construction of which an entire block of buildings was sacrificed. The interior, vast as a railway station, was of the latest Teutonic design and ordering, with the clatter, chatter, and scurrying of a German Bier Keller. Here were to be found the lesser satellites of the cinema, clandestine vendors of drugs, political refugees from the two hemispheres, unattached female adventurers, secret police agents; only a very small sprinkling belonging genuinely to the artistic professions.

The older Dome clique was beginning to frequent the new cafe. Select, which, however, soon degenerated into a resort of perverts and inverses of both sexes, marcelle frilled and painted, perched on high stools, simpering and flirting unabashed. Here of an evening many of the coterie of new writers, then coming to the front, were to be found: Conrad Bercovici, James Joyce, Eugene Jolas, Ernest Hemingway, Peter Neagoe, Lyon Mearson, Lilian Day, and certain old-timers like Gillet Burgess, who, for a while at least, found amusement in this new Montparnassian sideshow.

Nearer the Seine, facing the venerable church of St. Germain-des-Pres, with its hoary tower dating from Roman days, was another popular cafe, that of the Deux Magots, which still maintained its prewar status of an "intellectual cafe," then as now perhaps most important of all maternity wards for artistic gestation.

In the neighboring Rue de Seine and Rue des Saints-Peres, and also in the Rue de la Boetie across the river, were housed most of the galleries of picture dealers. There almost every day new talents were being "discovered," exploited, heralded, flashing rocket-like across the skies—a bang, a flash, and then, as a rule, silence. In most cases the announced rockets never showed above the house-tops and merely fizzled and sputtered out on their stands.

The public's innate taste for the chromo was being exploited to the full. The masters of the day were Kissling, Vlaminck, Utrillo, and the Russian Soutine. Kissling's paintings, clumsy in form and sour in color, still held a sentimental sadness found in the crude chromes of earlier days. Vlaminck, who had started out in mature life as a cabaret actor in Montmartre, exhibited plaster colored landscapes, which resembled the "genuine hand paintings" seen in furniture and barber shops in my youth, the main difference being that the latter were generally adorned with mother-of-pearl incrustations.

Utrillo in his youth undoubtedly showed great promise, but a drunkard's existence brought about an early decay of his talents. In spite of the fact that for years he had been confined in a private institution, the picture markets were flooded with his views of Paris—crude copies of photos and postcards, mechanical lines of the T square and triangle showing clearly through the paint. This finally resulted in a scandal in which his mother, the painter, Suzanne Valadon, was implicated. It was proved that she had contrived in the spurious output of so called works by her famous son. Soutine, one of the latest glories of the new school, specialized in still lifes representing smoked herrings on a dark background, or weird hallucinations revealing a "technique" that even a sign painter might refuse to acknowledge as his own.

A decade of revolution in favor of purer, freer color was now decreed. The new school, now in favor, depicted their subjects in dark, dirty greys, browns, and oily blacks. Othon Friesz owed his first gleams of fame to an acquaintance with Cezanne, though his works had few of the virtues and most of the defects of his master. Dunoyer Segonzac, who painted formless landscapes in a muddy paste of black and grey, and Derain, with drab, thinly veneered evocations of his academic background, reflections of his own joyless, perpetually down-in-the-dumps existence, were acclaimed as world influences in painting. I have found artistic snobs in front of one of Derain's landscapes raving about the "marvelous color" which was conspicuous only by its absence. His best landscapes were inspired from compositions by old masters in the Louvre. Those he evolved from his own conceptions were entirely lacking in life and movement.

Foujita, the Japanese artist, a draughtsman of great originality and charm, found the demand for his work so great that at times he resorted to making several tracings of each drawing, which he signed as originals. Etchings and lithographs signed with his name for sale in the various galleries could be numbered by the hundreds. Unfortunately, the desire for notoriety got the better of his dignity as an artist and he resorted to the publicity methods of a cinema star. He could be seen in public places adorned with a nose ring. With the aid of touring agents, he organized visits to his studio, where so called artists and students could be seen at work from a variety of models posing in the nude, so that the "personally conducted" visitors got their money's worth.

The art galleries and picture dealers were reaping huge profits. The New Rich were buying art by new masters to give them standing in matters of taste and culture. In addition there was the clientele of speculative buyers, who purchased the new masters not because they admired them, but because they counted on making large profits when the new "values" had been boomed in the art market; for people remembered the huge sums paid for works by Monet, Sisley, Pissaro, and Cezanne, which had once been so disdained that they could hardly find purchasers even at the ridiculously low prices asked.

In many well known instances, when their pictures were put up for auction at a public sale, artists in vogue resorted to tricks practised on the stock market and in certain lines of business. In order to keep up the commercial value of their pictures, they would, through a proxy, bid up the prices to a figure far in excess of that for which the work had been sold originally. It was notorious that one of the principal leaders of the New School had spent a fortune in this manner. On every possible occasion he had bought in his own pictures, thereby giving the public the impression that their market value was steadily increasing and that there was a great demand for his work.

A great source of revenue to dealers was the renting of their galleries to young, more or less unknown artists who wished to show their wares. The slightest, crudest efforts of these tyros were encouraged.

The Time Has Come ..

By Kippy Stuart

If you want a shrub to grow beneath pine trees, or in the windy ocean exposure, go after veronica. This shrub comes in a variety of colors: white, pink and one has a reddish cast. The flowers grow on the tips of branches and feather out into soft thistle-like blooms. Veronica is exceptionally hardy and after once established requires little cultivating and almost no water. In Pebble Beach, along the water front, I know of one lovely garden that majors almost entirely in veronica. As far as I know, veronica is even deer repellent. The leaves are of a leathery texture, evidently not palatable to the "dear little deer." (If you have had the fight with this animal and tried to grow a garden within deer-range, you know the sarcasm of that moniker).

You may choose almost any height you desire in the veronica world; ground cover, to hedge height and they will all be veronica. You may even grow veronica between flag stones. There are numerous varieties all with forbidding Latin names. So instead of calling them all personally and plaguing them to report shape and habits, I recommend that you tell your nurseryman where you want to plant and he will supply you with a veronica of suitable height.

A general rule in selecting shrubs for a windy or dry slope, or for the ocean front, is to select one with thick, shiny leathery leaves. The delicate plants, such as eugenia do not thrive in unprotected exposures.

It is time to feed camellia, rhododendron, azalea and other acid plants. A handful of pine needles is a good form of acid food; but it is wiser at this season to fertilize with a sharp acid chemical; R. C. A. is an old favorite. Never cultivate acid plants close to the roots and never dig close to the plant itself. Acid plants have roots that lie close to the surface and once disturbed they go into a quick decline. With your finger tip, make a small depression about one foot from the plant stem; sprinkle fertilizer, one tablespoon to a plant, cover and water immediately.

I am doing all my winter and early spring bloomers with the new magic liquid fertilizer, Hyponex. I have had such startling results in so short a time with Hyponex that I am considering using it on my breakfast cereal, dousing my face powder with Hyponex, and generally picking up and rejuvenating myself. I took a very old ger-anium that had long since given up the ghost. Two doses of Hyponex and away the old girl went! That geranium thought itself reincarnated to the extent of almost blooming itself to death. So why not try it on myself?

I have been informed by reliable authority that the Monterey Peninsula calla lilies are all suffering from an injurious form of bacteria. These attacks come in waves and if one garden shows sere and yellow callas, your neighbor's calla is in the same fix. The only thing I was told to do is to pull the leaves and flowers from the root and not to cut the stalks with a sharp instrument. When you start to pull a calla leaf, don't be afraid, the bulb won't suffer.

POLICE DEPARTMENT BUYS 3-WHEEL MOTOR BIKE

Police Commissioner Andrew Martin last week ordered a $1,450 three-wheeled motorcycle to be used by the police department for marking parked cars. Price includes $225 for a station-to-motor one-way radio. Martin said he expects the vehicle to arrive from the factory in about a month.

"I rode a motorcycle for a long time," said Martin, a retired state police officer, "and I haven't much love for the things. But Andy Del Monte is very enthusiastic about it. Probably getting his boots greased up already."

Kin to radar, "Jump-Jump" hauls television from point to point on radio beams aimed like a searchlight

WEST'S FIRST TELEVISION NETWORK

Relay system to operate between San Francisco and Los Angeles

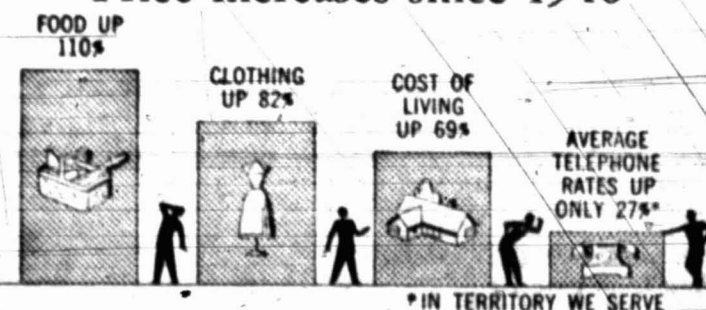

1. Amplifying equipment like this is connected with the hornlike antennas above to relay television programs or long distance telephone calls from one part of the country to another. Engineers call it micro-wave... for it uses high-frequency radio waves, and it gets its nickname, "Jump-Jump," because the beams leap-frog between relay stations located on mountains 28 to 65 miles apart.

3. The research which produced this micro-wave system was conducted in Bell Telephone Laboratories... originators of so many electronic developments. Hundreds of them have led to better telephone service at lower cost... and have played a major part in making your telephone the big value it is today. For in spite of rising prices, telephone rates have gone up much less than our costs of providing service. On the average, our prices have gone up less than half as much as the cost of living generally.

2. Television programs can be relayed from one point to another by micro-wave or by coaxial cable. The first leg of a Western television network will begin operating between San Francisco and Los Angeles September 15 over the newly-completed "Jump-Jump" system. And we're going ahead with surveys and experiments to extend the television network to other areas of the West.

The first meeting of the Carmel P.T.A. of the new school year was held Tuesday, September 12, at 2:30 in the Sunset Cafeteria. Mrs. Julian von Meier, president, presided over this first meeting. After the call to order, the pledge of allegiance, and a short business meeting, the meeting was turned over to the Program Chairman, Mrs. William Arley Smith. Mrs. Smith outlined the program for the coming year.

Andy Wiemann, Safety Service Chairman of the Red Cross, announced the availability of a first aid class, and a home nursing class. Mrs. Victor Drilea, Executive Director for the Monterey Peninsula Girl Scouts, presented the Girl Scout Program with an eloquent plea for leaders by the girl scouts themselves.

Mrs. Francis Wallace announced a new outdoor camping program for the sixth grade.

Mrs. Herbert Blanks, chairman of the Budget and Finance Committee, announced final plans for the Carnival-Bazaar, to be held on the Sunset School grounds, starting with a parade at 10:30. Booths open at 11:00, and will remain open for business until 5:00. The evening entertainment will start at 7:30.

With the introduction of the faculty members and chairmen of the Board, the meeting was adjourned.

Tea was then served by Mrs. Jack Dalziel, Mrs. William Potter and Mrs. Fred Nelson.

Why Bill Bibb and most P.G. and E. people like their jobs

Edward M. Linnell, Fall River Mills, California, was a blacksmith and welder with us before he retired on a pension. Ed is famous for his work with corrective horseshoes, and still runs a small forge in back of his home.

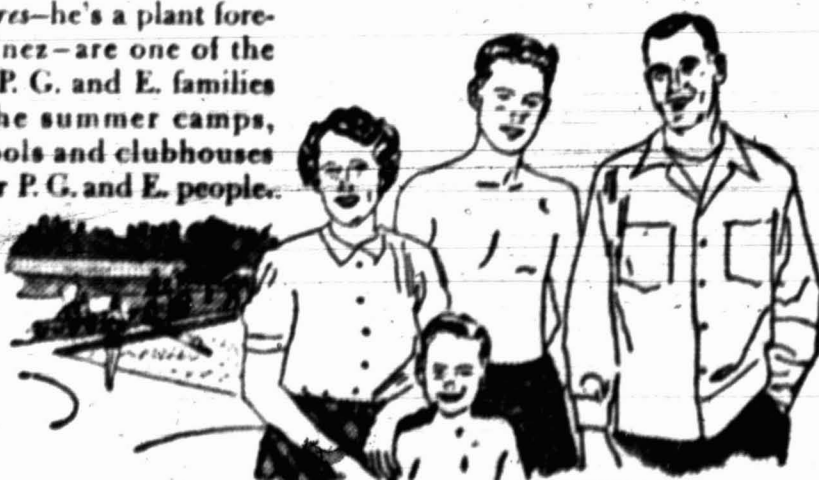

W. Y. "Bill" Bibb began as an errand boy 30 years ago, is now a foreman in the Fresno Transformer Repair Shop. While getting ahead with P.G. and E., Bill took time to become a fine chef, get in some hunting and fishing, manage an amateur baseball club.

The fact that P.G. and E. people like their jobs is one reason why they do their jobs well. And that's important to every community we serve.

The job they do has been greatly responsible for keeping your gas and electric rates among the lowest in the nation. It's helped put an annual payroll of nearly $70 million into Northern and Central California. And from the projects P.G. and E. people have built come federal, state, county and local taxes amounting to $40,278,000 in 1949. And, of course, their teamwork has enabled us to add 1,156,400 new horsepower since the war. By this time next year our total capacity will be nearly 4,000,000 horsepower—ample for our needs today, a good base to build on for the growing years ahead.

P.G. & E.
PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY

The R. J. Moores—he's a plant foreman in Martinez—are one of the thousands of P.G. and E. families who enjoy the summer camps, swimming pools and clubhouses maintained for P.G. and E. people.

Virginia E. Harris, clerk in the General Office Engineering Department, was a pretty sick girl for two months last winter. But P.G. and E.'s cooperative Benefit Plan took care of practically all her expenses. And she's planning to catch up on the skiing she missed last season when the first good snow hits the hills.

John Graham Married

On Sunday, in the Central Presbyterian Church of Merced, John Graham was united in marriage with Shirley Wills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wills of Merced. Dr. Earle Harvey performed the ceremony.

John, who graduated from Carmel High in '44 and then served in active Army duty in the Philippines, will continue his studies at UCLA. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor D. Graham, formerly had their home and business in Carmel, and now live in Westwood.

Jane Belsey of Los Angeles was maid of honor while Carol Graham and Nancy Oneto of Merced were bridesmaids. Junior attendant was Bernadine Beatty of Fresno. Russ Bohlke of Carmel was best man.

Among friends who attended the wedding from Carmel were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith and Carol Ann; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bohlke and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Timbers.

Duplicate Wedding

The third member of a Los Gatos family chose the Church of the Wayfarer for her wedding, when Patricia Ann Havens and Charles L. Barnett, also of Los Gatos, were married on Saturday even at 6:00 o'clock. The oldest sister, Verla Jean Havens, was married to Harvey E. Schapansky on December 18, 1948, and the girls' brother, Robert Lee Havens, and Betty West were married on April 9, 1949.

All three of the weddings were on Saturdays at 6:00 o'clock, and the ceremonies were performed by Dr. K. Fillmore Gray.

As each of the couples and the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. Havens, came to the marriage of another of the family members, they felt they were building a tradition which will be maintained with the baptism of their children, one of which is scheduled in the near future.

Off To College

Returning to Santa Clara University next week will be Mike Monahan. Mike has been in Europe this last summer, with other Santa Clara students, touring each country, and ending at Rome.

Also going back to Santa Clara is Orval Mead.

Both students are Carmel High graduates, and plan to continue their four-year education at the University.

Evening Galeties

Mr. and Mrs. Ivor L. Prosser with Mr. Frank Nichols, surprised Cecil "Pop" Smith with an invitation to dinner, and later picked up lots of laughs at the First Theatre, last weekend.

Conroy Guests

Enjoying their first trip to California are Dr. and Mrs. Max Resthel, who say they are in love with Carmel, and would like to remain here. They are from Chicago, and are visiting with Mrs. Susan Conroy.

Also from Chicago, and in the same party, are Dr. and Mrs. Albert Coulon, who have been here before. As a matter of fact, their two children, William and Annette, attended Sunset School for awhile.

Seattle Honeymooners

Honeymooning in Carmel, at the Pine Inn Hotel, are the newly-married Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Anderson of Seattle.

Mr. Anderson has just one more year of dental training at the University of Washington before he is a full-fledged dentist.

While in Carmel, he looked up a buddy of his whom he knew during World War II, Toley Doud. They went through training together at Valley City, North Dakota, and later met on Saipan.

The couple will head northward on Saturday, and live permanently in their home town, Seattle, Washington.

Entering State

Starting their junior year at San Jose State this next Monday will be three Carmel girls. Roberta Roberts will major in education. Shirley Petty plans to continue her major work in physical education. Wanda Warren is going to further her interest in social sciences.

The three Carmel girls have graduated from Carmel High School, as well as Sunset School, and just received their Associate of Art Degrees at the June graduation of the Monterey Peninsula College.

Navy Fashion Show

After a noon luncheon last Wednesday, Section A-2 wives at the General Line School gathered around tables at the Navy Women's Club to view the newest fall creations by Harriet Duncan. Program chairman for the event was Mrs. M. D. Champlain, and the luncheon was planned by Mrs. D. N. Hager.

To the soft organ music of Jack Loren, Navy models and local girls modeled the fashions, which varied in style and material. Models from the Line School included Mrs. D. S. Park, Mrs. J. R. Peck, Mrs. R. N. Barnes, Mrs. T. L. Conder, Mrs. J. P. Edwards, Mrs. W. A. Whellus, and Mrs. G. E. Kemp. Carmelites who added to the list of models were Mimi Townsend, Phyllis Carter and Joanne Nix.

Contributing the furniture for the affair was Gamble's Furniture Store, and the flowers which were neatly arranged on the stage were donated by the N.B. Flower Shop.

Joanne Nix entertained the assemblage with pantomimes about do's and don'ts in polite society. The luncheon-fashion show ended with a reception by the Navy Wives for their guests.

Baby Showered

A large cake, decorated with a stork and posies, formed the centerpiece of the table at the home of Mrs. Robert Barbour last week, when she honored Mrs. Frederick Stanley with a stork shower.

Among the well-wishers and gift bearers were Mrs. William Dewey, Mrs. Phillip Hutton, Mrs. Shreve Archer (the former Peggy Doud, who lives in Minnesota), Mrs. Milancy Morrow and Mrs. James Clark.

In Army Air Corps

Very happy over his acceptance into the Army Air Corps is Dick Taplin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn M. Taplin of Carmel.

Dick was graduated in the Class of 1949 at Carmel High, and attended the Monterey Peninsula College last year.

He is becoming acclimated quite rapidly to the heat of Texas, where he is now stationed.

From Santa Barbara

Sojourning at Del Monte Lodge are Captain and Mrs. George W. Steele, who are from Santa Barbara. The vacationers were honored at a luncheon by Mr. Samuel F. B. Morse at the Cypress Point Club on Saturday.

During the war years, Captain Steele was the commanding officer of the Del Monte Pre-Flight School.

Decorations and costumes at the dinner-dance will bend toward the musical comedy, Oklahoma.

Boy Greets Hendricks

It was a bright moment last Saturday at 3:55 a.m. when Richard Scott Hendricks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hendricks, arrived at the Monterey Hospital. The boy weighed a hearty seven pounds, fourteen ounces at birth.

The newly born baby's father, Dick, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hendricks, and his mother (the former Sue Douglas) is the daughter of Mrs. Mae McGlynn, all of whom live in Carmel.

To Teach Dancing

Pat Canoles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Canoles, is now attending Monterey Peninsula College, in freshman standing. She graduated from Carmel High School in 1949, and did post-graduate work at the Northfield School for Girls, Massachusetts. She now plans to take a secretarial course.

In addition to her college work, Miss Canoles will assist her mother, of the June Delight Dancing School, this year. Pat studied under Theodore Kaslof, of Hollywood, and under Stanley Kahn, director of the San Francisco Ice Follies. Among her other teachers are Lew, Harold and William Christensen of the San Francisco Ballet School.

California's Freedom Bell, symbol of the state's crusade for freedom, will arrive in Carmel at 1:19 p.m. Wednesday, September 20, when it will be on view in front of the Bank of Carmel until 2:00 o'clock, Mayor Allen Knight said yesterday.

Visit of the bell here will coincide with a Peninsula campaign to enroll signatures of citizens on Freedom Scrolls, pledging the signers to support the crusade's militant campaign against Communism. Scrolls and bell later will be enshrined at Templehof Air-drome in Berlin as a permanent symbol of freedom.

Frank Lloyd and Glen T. Goodwill, Monterey Superintendent of Schools, are Peninsula co-chairmen for the campaign.

heart with delight. A new book of great local interest is A Boat for Peppe by Leo Politti. Mr. Politti is one of our best children's writers, in fact a previous book, Son of the Swallows, won the coveted 1949 Caldecott Gold Medal! A Boat for Peppe is the story of the fishing fleet in the beautiful harbor of Monterey and the son of a Sicilian fisherman, Mr. Politti does his own illustrations, and they are pictures you won't forget for originality and appeal.

Better Homes and Gardens Story Book is a beautifully bound volume of fifty masterpieces of literature for children, with everything from the jungle wonder of Rudyard Kipling to the pleasant Peter Rabbit tale. You'll find over 600 illustrations carefully reproduced from the original famous editions of each story, most of them in color. And the cost? Only $2.95! Here's another of those famous Giant Golden Books with 42 stories, poems and songs by Kathryn and Byron Jackson with fascinating pictures by Gustaff Tenggren. Yes, all children love Golden Books, especially when they're full of pirates!

Here's the answer to all you restless individuals with time hanging heavy on your hands or for a sick and crippled friend. CARMEL CRAFTS & HOBBIES have a wonderful selection of all tools, models and accessories for your various hobbies, crafts and special talents. In the hobby line you'll find all sorts of models, or young and old in railroads, automobiles and planes. Besides this, they have a complete line of tools for every part. In crafts, we just couldn't begin to name the different gadgets: All kinds of leather and that wonderful thin tooling copper, perfect for making picture plaques and box covers. For your special talent, CARMEL CRAFTS & HOBBIES have intriguing textile painting sets for designing your own skirts, scarves, curtains and anything else you may have in mind. Shell craft is another invaluable pastime for everybody. Learn to make shell jewelry in the simplest manner possible; and paint those beautiful figurines you've admired in the gift shop. They're lots of fun—you'll be surprised how lovely they can be. If you're laboring under the delusion that it takes a special technique to produce these masterpieces, you can forget it right now, 'cause you most certainly don't have to be gifted. Everything is simple enough for a child of 11 to operate. So start doing this kind of work that's rest for the mind, recreational, educational and relaxing.

Velvet, velvet, velvet is the last word these days and especially at HARRIET DUNCAN'S where just everything is velvet. Such glamor as you've never seen, and you'll rise to new heights of beauty with an outfit at a DUNCAN. Jackets in velvet come in purple, red and parma violet, with a chic crest on one pocket. Stunning lace blouses with rhinestone buttons to go with all the velvet costumes and some of the most flattering skirts of velvet come in black, red, orange and violet, and can be had for reasonable prices.

P. S., HARRIET DUNCAN also has a new shipment of the most beautiful belts in suede and leather for those smart touch-ups to your outfit. So for that well turned out look, style yourself at HARRIET DUNCAN'S.

In duly commissioned and sworn, personally appeared IRENE E. GRAHAM and EDWARD H. GRAHAM, known to me to be the persons whose names are subscribed to the within instrument, and acknowledged to me that they executed the same.

A lesson-Sermon on "Matter" is to be read in Christian Science churches Sunday, September 17, for which the Golden Text is taken from Matthew: "Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up" (15:13).

The sermon will be comprised of citations from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, from which the following have been selected:

I Peter: "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you, Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time" (1:3-5).

Science and Health: "We acknowledge that the crucifixion of Jesus and his resurrection served to uplift faith to understand eternal life, even the illness of Soul, Spirit, and the nothingness of matter" (p. 497).

Food for dinners and luncheons next week has been donated by local merchants, Godwin said, and proceeds should make a substantial contribution to the Center's treasury.

In spite of appeals for furniture contributions, the Center still needs a piano. If none appears by next Friday, an instrument will have to be rented for the dance.

Godwin added. A new ping-pong table has been given to the center by Tom Norris, and the new electric clock was the gift of the By
